

In association with ProjectBase, Situations has invited What, How and for Whom (WHW) to be curators-in-residence as part of the Curatorial Network Residency Programme supported by Arts Council England South West. Two members of WHW, Ana Devic and Sabina Sabolovic will be visiting arts organisations, curatorial collectives and artist-led programmes in Bristol and Cornwall, investigating the question 'What is an Organisation?' over a ten-day period in October. What, How and for Whom (WHW) is a curatorial collective formed in 1999 and based in Zagreb, Croatia. Along with the other two members Ivet Curlin, and Nataša Ilic, they are the curators of the 11th Istanbul Biennial in 2009 and have directed the program of Gallery Nova, a non-profit, city owned gallery in Zagreb since 2003. They write of their curatorial practice:

Collective Creativity, curated by WHW, 2005

Installation view, Kunsthalle Fridericianum, Kassel.
Courtesy WHW.

"What, how and for whom?' are the three basic questions of every economic organisation that also concern the planning, concept and realisation of exhibitions, as well as the production and distribution of artworks or the artists' position in the labour market." These questions, which were the title of WHW's first project dedicated to the 150th anniversary of the Communist Manifesto, in 2000 in Zagreb, became the motto of WHW's work and the title of the collective.

Bristol:

Talk:

What, How and For Whom present their curatorial practice

Tuesday 21 October 2008, 7–9pm

Plan 9

Bridewell Island, Nelson Street, Broadmead, Bristol, BS1

(Public entrance is on Bridewell Street)

Tickets Free. Booking recommended.

info@plan9.org.uk

Seminar:

What is an Organisation? led by What, How, and For Whom

Saturday 25 October 2008, 1–5pm

Spike Island

133 Cumberland Road, Bristol, BS1 6UX

Tickets £5 / £3 concs. (Tea/Coffee will be provided)

admin@spikeisland.org.uk

telephone +44(0)117 929 2266

Cornwall:

Lecture:

Models of Practice: What, How and for Whom

Wednesday 29 October, 5pm–7pm

University College Falmouth, Lecture Theatre, Wood Lane, Falmouth TR11 4RH

Tickets: Free, booking advisable info@projectbase.org.uk